

I am writing to express my deep dismay at the leniency of the classification of materials promoting terrorism in any way. Some people of an idealistic and impressionable turn of mind can be used by fanatical groups to promote their own agenda by disrupting and destroying the freedom we are blessed with in this country. Young people are particularly vulnerable in this area. The freedom we enjoy needs to be protected.

Gwen Thomson