

Staff Profile

Achieving a Just & Secure Society

The tables below show staffing details for the Department at 30 June 2000 and 30 June 2001. As the figures for 30 June 2000 are included for comparison only, they exclude data for the Insolvency and Trustee Service, Australia (ITSA) which became a separate agency on 1 July 2000.

The first table provides a breakdown by location (region), broadbanded classification and gender for the core Department and the Australian Protective Service. It includes all staff employed by the Department under the Public Service Act 1999 i.e. ongoing (previously described as permanent), non-ongoing (previously described as temporary or casual), full-time and part-time. Part-time staff are shown as full-time equivalents.

The second table shows staffing numbers by head count, that is, part-time staff are shown as the number of people employed, not full-time equivalents.

For the purposes of these tables, part-time staff are defined as staff members who work less than the standard hours per week (standard hours being 36 hours 45 minutes).

There are some variations in staffing details at 30 June 2000 shown in this report, and in the Department's previous annual report (apart from the exclusion of ITSA). In the previous annual report most staff who were on leave without pay were counted. This method of counting staff was varied during the year by enhancing the system reporting capabilities. In this report only those staff who are being paid are counted.
