Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing to inform you that I do not agree with having my personal private activities, phone calls, emails, texts, location on electronic devices be collected, stored and used for anyone other than myself. I believe this to be a huge breach of my right to privacy and can be used and taken out of context in which ever way deemed necessary to another outside parties agenda.

As a Constituent of Australia I am sending a clear NO to extending the Metadata usage in Civil proceedings. I do not believe the Government be allowed to collect and store the peoples Metadata without the people being able to have the same right of access too.

Your Faithfully
Mrs S. Cordwell
