

Dear Sir,

I wish to oppose the introduction of these new anti discriminatory laws to include sexuality and gender identity.

These laws have a very negative impact on freedom of choice and freedom of religion. Christians will lose their freedom of speech.

Homosexuals are never taken to court for vilifying Christians and their beliefs. Why should Christians be taken to court for speaking out about their beliefs regarding homosexuality. Every true study finds these beliefs endanger the moral safety of children in the care of these people.

Christians love the people who are caught up in the homosexual lifestyle and are genuinely concerned for their welfare. This is not a healthy lifestyle.

Statistically, these relationships do not last and the fall out for all involved is usually pretty horrendous when these relationships dissolve.

Sincerely,

Marianne O'Connell.
