

I wish to object to Julia Gillard's push to change our laws. May I remind the Government that you only act in Australia as a private corporation. You call yourselves "the Crown" but you are not speaking on behalf of Her Majesty the Queen, the highest law in this land. Common law = God's law. How can you legally do what you are doing? As a sovereign individual under GOD I declare you have no authority over the Queen's Common Law and I plan to take my common law grievance to the Queen's private secretary.

Stop watering down the laws to cater for minority groups that are not living or acting according to the highest law of this land, by which we are all under.
