

To Assistant Secretary
International Human Rights and Anti - Discrimination Branch

Re: the upcoming Inquiry into Commonwealth Anti-discrimination Laws

I would like to ask that no changes be made to extend anti-discrimination law. I believe that changes to the law as it stands would have a detrimental impact on our current freedom of choice and freedom of religion. All anti-discrimination law removes freedom of choice, I think we have enough laws already. The Equal Opportunity Commissions and Tribunals deal with Anti-discrimination law.

Thank you for considering my opinion

Ruth Holt
[address removed]