

Dear Sir/Madam.

It has come to my attention the government will be reviewing the laws concerning anti-discrimination in Australia.

Our present laws fully cover the various differences in people that need addressing, ie: race, sex, age etc.

There is no need to make any changes to include sexual orientation or gender identity.

Australia has a proud tradition of promoting a "fair go" for all but including the 2 above would force religious groups to accomodate practices that are condemned by their religion.

PLEASE DO NOT ADD SEXUAL ORIENTATION OR GENDER IDENTITY TO THE LAW..

Thank you for your consideration,
Richard Blazucki
