Publication of submissions

In meeting the Australian Government's commitment to enhancing the accessibility of published material, the Attorney-General's Department will only publish submissions to this website that have been submitted electronically. The following formats are preferred:

- Microsoft Word
- Rich Text Format (RTF)
- txt format.

Please limit individual file size to less than 5MB. The department may create PDF documents from the above formats. To help the department satisfy the Australian Government web content accessibility guidelines, please do not include where possible any tables, diagrams or images (including your organisation's logo).

Hardcopy submissions received by mail or fax will still be considered by the department, however they will not be published on the website.

Confidentiality

Submissions received may be published on the Attorney-General's Department webpage, except where requests have been made to keep them confidential or where they relate to particular cases or personal information.

Would you prefer this submission to remain confidential? No

Your submission

The following is my comments and suggestions Under the summary of conflict of interest and benefit to business options:

1. Acting as a Master of Ceremonies at the Wedding Reception

I strongly believe that this is an extra service provided by a Marriage Celebrant. His/her time and effort should be compensated.

2. Providing a free wedding venue

I also believe that providing a free venue (for example my own home) for a wedding venue should be considered as benefit to business and not conflict of interest.
