Publication of submissions

In meeting the Australian Government's commitment to enhancing the accessibility of published material, the Attorney-General's Department will only publish submissions to this website that have been submitted electronically. The following formats are preferred:

- Microsoft Word
- Rich Text Format (RTF)
- txt format.

Please limit individual file size to less than 5MB. The department may create PDF documents from the above formats. To help the department satisfy the Australian Government web content accessibility guidelines, please do not include where possible any tables, diagrams or images (including your organisation's logo).

Hardcopy submissions received by mail or fax will still be considered by the department, however they will not be published on the website.

Confidentiality

Submissions received may be published on the Attorney-General's Department webpage, except where requests have been made to keep them confidential or where they relate to particular cases or personal information.

Would you prefer this submission to remain confidential? No

Your submission

I support the continued mode of OPD in its current form in totality.

I do think that newly appointed celebrants would benefit by doing the compulsory unit as this also provides them with mixing on a wider level within the Celebrants community.

Continuity and rigour is required to keep the standards of our members in line with expectation of their role as a civil celebrant. I strongly believe this should be of the highest order.
