

Hey there,

Just dropping a quick note on this, since we're almost at the submission deadline...

As a member of the Australian public, I believe that telco data is extremely valuable and should not be exposed lightly. The scope of its use should not be expanded beyond serious crime such as terrorism, child pornography and human trafficking. It shouldn't be available to parties such as the RSPCA, and it shouldn't be available to movie companies, particularly foreign RIAA types.

Cheers,

David
