

I object that metadata would be released to corporation. Or to persons that have the money to pursue release of my data to them. As ordinary member of society I feel my right to privacy is being strongly compromised. The conclusions reached by release of data concerning myself could be totally incorrect. Unfortunately justice will be not best served if I am unable to fund a defense. A defense against information or conclusions which I deem to be untrue.

Gary Henshaw