

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing to inform you that I do not agree with having my personal private activities, phone calls, emails, texts, location on electronic devices be collected, stored and used for anyone other than myself. I believe this to be a huge breach of my right to privacy and can be used and taken out of context in which ever way deemed necessary to another outside parties agenda.

As a Constituent of Australia I am sending a clear NO to extending the Metadata usage in Civil proceedings. I do not believe the Government be allowed to collect and store the peoples Metadata without the people being able to have the same right of access too.

Your Faithfully
Mrs S.Cordwell
